Wright Bros. Anniversary To Be Noted

...stones along the frontier of flight — from the cracking of the sound barrier to manned missions planned for the moon and beyond — will be discussed by two prominent aerospace speakers in major addresses before the Wright Day Memorial Dinner in Los Angeles on Dec. 17.

Col. Charles E. Yeager, the first pilot to fly faster than the speed of sound, and Walter C. Williams, operation director of NASA's Mercury Astronaut program, will address some 800 Southland aviation leaders

The gala affair will commemorate the 59th anniversary of the Wright brothers flight at Kitty Hawk, N.C.

THE TIMERS Aero Club and the Aero Club of Southern California are jointly sponsoring the event to be staged in the International Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Both clubs are chapters of the National Aeronautic Assn. Festivities begin at 6:30 p.m.

Col. Yeager is the commandant of the Aerospace Research Pilots School at the Air Force Flight Test Center, Edwards AFB. Williams is the associate director of NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex., and the NASA project engineer for the X-1 rocket plane which propelled Yeager through the sound barrier on Oct. 17, 1947.

Francis T. Fox, NAA's national vice president, is directing Aero Club participation. He is the general manager of the city's Department of Airports.

MANUFACTURING executive Charles C. Tibbetts heads Timers Club efforts.

An Open letter to Mayor Isen:

I am a member of a fairly unorganized group known as the "younger generation." Most adults think that the young people in this country can't think for themselves. I doubt if this letter will mean much because it is written by a "kid," but I just wanted you so-called "public servants" to know what I think of the way you run the government of this city.

"wise up" and if all of the politicians would start giving to the majority of the people what they really want, then this world would be a much better place to live in. It wouldn't hurt anything either if Torrance would start by leaving publicly paid for parks and golf courses and tennis courts open to the public when the public has a chance to use them.

CHRIS CLAFIN

I think it "stinks" with a capital S. It's about time some of you Democrats and Republicans realize that a lot of the future voters of this country don't like the way you're running things.

I believe that the Department of Parks and Recreation was organized to provide a place for adults as well as kids to play in. In other words, they are set up for "public" use. This is all well and good. The park which I go to play in is called El Retiro Park. This letter is concerned with that park.

Over Thanksgiving holiday, the Department of Parks and Recreation undertook the task of resurfacing the tennis courts at El Retiro Park. It's really nice to know that this Department of Parks and Recreation is doing something for the public, but repairing something that is in no urgent need of repairs during a time when the public has a chance to use the fixture is utter and complete stupidity. The sign at El Retiro Park reads:

"Courts will be closed for repairs Nov. 21-28."

They could have resurfaced the courts over the week day; but, no, I guess that wouldn't conform to the way we do everything else around here. Every way is the right way except the right way. Everybody gets a voice in public affairs except the public. It's no wonder so many people don't vote.

Although Proposition "B" did not succeed in the election, the Citizens' Committee for Proposition "B" and the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation acquired many new friends and supporters of regional recreation.

Failure of Proposition "B" will not curtail the County Parks and Recreation's activities. The development of regional facilities in Los Angeles County will not move as rapidly as we had hoped, but the general public has become aware of the County's responsibilities and along with the Board of Supervisors has more clearly identified the Department's role in the field of regional parks and recreation.

Thousands of citizens were reached through the combined efforts of many civic minded people and groups. The Citizens' Committee, on behalf of the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, thanks you for your support in this matter and for the very valuable service performed by you in attempting to reach about 3 million voters in Los Angeles County.
